On graduation our students are admired for their confidence and ability to think critically, to tease out important matters, to reason and debate in a thoughtful, intelligent, and authentic manner.

If you are seeking a third level education that places an emphasis on this stimulating approach to broadening your mind and self-development more so than cramming in facts, then you should consider St Patrick’s Pontifical University.

An engaging learning environment in a historic campus

St Patrick’s Pontifical University is a wonderful place to study for so many reasons. Our campus is steeped in tradition but with state-of-the-art facilities. We are located in the centre of Maynooth, Ireland’s only university town. Because we share a campus and facilities with Maynooth University, our students are ‘dual citizens’ meaning you can enjoy the buzz of a large campus while reaping the advantages of smaller class sizes. Maynooth offers an alternative to the busyness of larger cities but with excellent transport links by road, rail and bus, Dublin is only 30 minutes away.
Small class sizes and friendly lecturers giving individual attention

Making the transition to third level can often be daunting. Leaving behind structures and friendships built up in school to start again in an unfamiliar environment with new people.

At St Patrick’s Pontifical University, our class sizes are small. Our students tell us this is a great benefit as they quickly get to know their lecturers and form new friendships with their new classmates.

Smaller class sizes also allow room for more individual attention and deeper exploration of topics in the class. Our lecturers are interested in your success and are truly engaged as part of your overall learning experience. Consequently, our students become part of a learning community and start on a journey leading to lifelong friendships.

You will graduate as a well-grounded, confident individual ready to tackle a variety of careers

Studying at St Patrick’s Pontifical University, you will be encouraged to engage critically, so that you can form your own ideas and conclusions. You will become more skilled at expressing yourself and gain the confidence to communicate powerfully and eloquently. You will graduate as a confident, informed, and well-grounded person, capable of making real change in your own life and in wider society.

Our graduates have gone on to enjoy successful careers that include teaching, marketing, communications, journalism, public relations, finance, community development, social services, chaplaincy and parish administration.
Campus facilities

While St Patrick’s Pontifical University is a small niche university, we share our campus with Maynooth University. This gives our students the flexibility to enjoy the quieter south campus where we are located or avail of all the facilities of the larger north campus where Maynooth University is situated. St Patrick’s Pontifical University students have access to all services and facilities across both campuses.

St Patrick’s students have access to the same services and facilities as MU students

"When people ask me what it is about Theology that I like so much, I just end up smiling and saying “everything”. In my time spent in university, I have learnt things I didn’t think possible, discovered things about myself that I didn’t know existed and most importantly, made friends who I know will stay with me long after I leave. I walk in to university every day smiling because I know I’m going to attend a lecture where I am acknowledged. The lecturers know you as a person, not just a number.

Putting St Patrick’s Pontifical University on my CAO was probably the best decision I have ever made."

Megan Byrne – Graduate, BATH

"If I had to sum up my experience at St Patrick’s Pontifical University in one word, that word would be amazing. I would highly recommend doing Theology and Arts, as it is very versatile and you have so much choice. Moral Theology was my favourite, but I know quite a lot of my friends prefer scripture. Probably the best thing about St Patrick’s is the fact that the Theology is such a small group, so when you first come to university, the first friends you make, and the ones you will be best friends with, are doing Theology.

I have made life-long friends here. I wouldn’t change my mind if I had the chance to do it again. It is challenging, but it is most definitely worth it!"

Mary Kate Thompson – Graduate, BATH
“My experience in St Patrick’s has been amazing. Meeting new people was made so easy, everyone was so friendly and with the small lectures it was really easy to talk to lecturers if you had questions.”

Mark-Paul Behan Clarke

“The college creates an environment which is very family like.”

“Studying at St Patrick’s is great as you get the opportunity to study Theology and Arts, this meant I was able to study Theology and History together and these subjects really complimented each other.

Theology is very intriguing, and every day you learn something new.”

Shauna Murphy

“Why study Theology? This is a question that many prospective students will ask themselves when they consider studying at St Patrick’s Pontifical University.

A degree in theology will provide you with a range of transferable skills that will greatly enhance your future employability and career prospects. Theology students garner advanced communication skills. They are adept at critical analysis and problem solving, thus enabling them to approach the future with an open and questioning mind.

The St Patrick’s graduate is discerning and socially engaged. Their knowledge and appropriation of their theological studies empowers them to make a unique and invaluable contribution in their future careers.”

Colm McGoldrick

“As a student in St Patrick’s Pontifical University over the last two years, I have found that there is a support system in place like no other, where students are treated as people rather than another number.

The small class sizes and available one on one time with lecturers make it an easier and less stressful experience.

If I were to go back in time to making my decision to study theology, I would not change a thing.”

Aoife Ward

What our alumni say

“I was very grateful to be on a small campus with this huge sense of community. Because we were in smaller classes we got to know one another so well and you strike up great friendships and then there’s also the great interaction with your lecturers.

If somebody is wondering about theology and there’s that constant niggling feeling about it, I would say, ‘go for it,’ because it is a sign for me of someone who wants to explore and is curious and it would never be a waste. A degree in theology can be a strong basis for so many career paths and your own personal life.”

Jane Mellett (BATh & MTh)
Laudato Si Officer at Trocaire

“Great memories, brilliant craic... my time at St Patrick’s laid such a strong foundation for my future work.”

“I came out of St Patrick’s a happier, more well-rounded, deep-rooted individual. It’s not so much academically what I learned in St Patrick’s, but it was the community that was here, the people I met, the energy that is very much alive in the place.”

Ger Brennan (BATh & MTh)
Head of Gaelic Games at UCD & former Dublin footballer

“St Patrick’s is an institution which can provide an environment where people belong, grow and develop.”
"The education I got at St Patrick’s formed me as a confident, respectful person and certainly during the Masters it gave me the skills to critique matters fairly and properly. This perfectly set me up for my work in future careers. I thoroughly remember the encouragement from lecturers of being told to think and to critique and to think differently. It gives you a good grounding on who you are as a person, both personally and academically. I remember the lecturers always being very passionate about the subjects they taught and their willingness to always help you to challenge certain ideas.

No matter what you want your future topic to become whether it is arts, science or business you will always come back to some fundamental questions in life. Studying theology allows you to have the language and the confidence to debate some of the deeper matters in life so do not be hesitant about choosing a degree in Theology. Every successful project I have done has been about the people you meet and the relationships you develop with them. Theology gives you an ability to view values of today’s modern society and in my case see the values of football managers, famous boxers and soccer players and to understand their values on the field."

Liam McGroarty (MTh)
Strategic Development Manager at Union of European Football Associations (UEFA), Switzerland

"The ethos of St Patrick’s and its way of teaching, learning and fostering new skills is the most important thing I could have learned."

Sinéad Hussey
(H/DIP in Christian Communications)
Media Broadcaster for RTÉ

"Working in RTÉ the national broadcaster has been given me a real sense and understanding of the importance of heritage, of history and of culture and tradition. It’s like St Patrick’s has been a place for more than 225 years that has fostered learning, a place of faith formation and I think Ireland is a richer place because of it’s presence."

"Studying theology allows you to have the language and the confidence to debate some of the deeper matters in life."

Course Aims

Theology This course aims to provide students with a solid intellectual formation in Theology. The scope of the course is wide, covering the range of the main theological subjects, so that students are introduced both to the breadth of the Christian tradition and to the variety of questions raised for Theology at the present time. Students of the course should develop a well-informed understanding and a deep personal appropriation of the Christian faith and other world religions and beliefs.

Arts These subjects offer students the opportunity both to broaden and deepen their knowledge of subjects they have already studied and to embark on new subjects of study. The variety of disciplines available is part of the richness of the Arts, but what all the subjects have in common is that each, in its own way, requires students to consider and reassess the values by which society operates in the modern world.

The Theology and Arts student therefore is someone with an enquiring and broad-ranging mind who will be well equipped to take his or her place in professional, social and community life.
First-year students take THREE subjects (60 credits in total); Theology (30 credits) plus two other Arts subjects (15 credits each) from the 5 groups below. No two subjects can be taken from the same group.

In such cases, it is the responsibility of the applicant to apply to FETAC for a major award where courses are taken over more than one year. A minimum of five distinctions are required for all courses. While a major award may be achieved over a number of sittings, the results that a student achieves in a single sitting (i.e. between 1st August - 31st July) are used for scoring purposes. The total maximum score that can be achieved is 400 points.

The score is based on achievement of the major award, i.e. a total of 120 credits, multiplied by the grade score of individual components. Grade scores for component awards are as follows: 3.333 points for a distinction; 2.222 points for a merit; 1.111 point for a pass. As the number of FETAC places available will be limited, those places will be allocated on a competitive basis based on the student’s score. Where more than one student has the same score, students will be ranked on a random basis by the CAO.

Entry to the first year of the BA in Theology & Arts programme, and the BA in Theology programme, will be considered for holders of one of the awards listed on our website sppu.ie and who have obtained at least 5 distinctions. 2 places will be available in MU001 Theology & Arts. One place will be available in MU002 Theology.
Occasional Applicants

Applications are welcomed from candidates who wish to study on an occasional basis. Occasional students may choose modules from our undergraduate degree programmes. MU001 & MU002 - These Programmes are covered under the free fees initiative. Students will be required to pay the following amounts: SUSI (100%) Grant holders pay €150 prior to registration. SUSI (50%) Grant holders pay €900 prior to registration and €750 in January. Non Grant holders pay €1650 prior to registration and €1500 in January. Students achieving 400 points, or more are awarded €500, to be deposited on “MyCard” 2. Students achieving 550 points or more are awarded €1,000. For students presenting GCE A Levels the awards are based on achieving points from three/four subjects in GCE A levels. The award is for one academic year following the student’s admission to the University, payable in two instalments – one in November and one in February (subject to the student remaining in good standing with the University). Campus accommodation is not included. There is no need to apply for this scholarship – it is automatically awarded to incoming first year students who meet the requirements.

O’Fiaich Scholarships for Northern Ireland Students

Five scholarships available for lay students from Northern Ireland taking the BATh in Theology and Arts. The scholarships are valued at €1,500 and includes the offer of campus accommodation. See website for application forms and closing dates.

Student Assistance Fund (SAF)

The Student Assistance/Access Fund is jointly sponsored by the European Social Fund and the Irish Government. It is available for students who require additional financial support to enable them to benefit fully from their third level studies. Registered students do not necessarily need to be grant holders to apply for funding. It simply offers a limited amount of financial support to students who experience financial difficulties related to the costs of their studies. The funding is available to all full-time registered students of St Patrick’s Pontifical University.
DARE

Disability Access Route to Education

St Patrick’s Pontifical University has close links with Maynooth University (the National University of Ireland, Maynooth). The two Universities share the same campus and facilities. Maynooth University’s Access Office caters for students of both Universities.

The Disability Access Route to Education (DARE) is a third level alternative admissions scheme for school-leavers whose disabilities have had a negative impact on their second level education. Before submitting a DARE application, you should read the DARE Application Guide & Workbook and discuss this with your parents, guardians or guidance counsellor. There are other admissions routes for mature and FETAC applicants: further information is available in this prospectus and on HEI websites.

Applicants applying for DARE must:

- Be under the age of 23 as of 1st January.
- Apply to CAO by the specified deadline in any given year. Check cao.ie for deadlines and further information.
- Disclose your disability and/or specific learning difficulty in your CAO application and fully and correctly complete Section A of the Supplementary Information Form (SIF) before the deadline specified on the CAO website.
- If you wish to be considered for the DARE scheme you must answer yes to question 1 on Section A of the fully completed SIF by the deadline specified on the CAO website.
- Download Section B of the SIF (Educational Impact Statement), have it completed by your school and returned to CAO to arrive before the deadline specified on the CAO website.

In place of Section C, applicants with a specific learning difficulty or dyspraxia are asked to provide a full psycho-educational assessment completed by an appropriately qualified psychologist. In addition, applicants with dyspraxia must provide documentation from an occupational therapist, neurologist, or physiotherapist.

HEAR

Higher Education Access Route

The Higher Education Access Route (HEAR) is a college and university scheme which offers places on reduced points and extra college support to school leavers from socio-economically disadvantaged backgrounds who are resident in the Republic of Ireland. HEAR has been established by a number of Higher Education Institutions based on clear evidence that socio-economic disadvantage has a negative impact on educational achievement at school and progression to higher education. School leavers who provide satisfactory evidence relating to their socio-economic circumstances may compete for a quota of places allocated to applicants on a reduced points basis. As the minimum entry and subject requirements may differ between colleges and courses, applicants should check the requirements of each preference listed on your CAO form.

Who should apply to HEAR?

School leavers from socio-economically disadvantaged backgrounds who are under the age of 23 as of 1st January and who are resident in the Republic of Ireland may apply to HEAR. Mature and FETAC applicants have different admission routes and you can get further information on these routes from our website sppu.ie.

How to apply to HEAR

• Apply online to CAO by the published deadline.
• You must indicate in your CAO application that you wish to apply for the HEAR scheme and you must fully and correctly complete all elements of the HEAR form (the HEAR form is a part of your CAO application) before the closing date specified on the CAO website.
• Submit evidence in support of your application to arrive at CAO no later than the closing date specified on the CAO website. HEAR applications can only be made online at www.cao.ie. More information on HEAR is available from your school Guidance Counsellor and at accesscollege.ie.

Condition of a HEAR offer

Applicants who receive a HEAR offer must attend an orientation programme before the first semester. Applicants who accept places in St Patrick’s Pontifical University through HEAR are offered a variety of academic, personal and social supports while studying at third level. Details of post-admission supports for HEAR entrants can also be found on accesscollege.ie and maynoothuniversity.ie/access-office.
Further Information

More information on HEAR and DARE is available from your School Guidance Counsellor or from the Maynooth University Access/ Disability Office. Information can also be found on accesscollege.ie, cao.ie, maynoothuniversity.ie/access-office and sppu.ie
